Directors' Workshop

Welcome to the Twenty-Second Annual Shorts for a Summer's Evening. We are pleased that we could continue with this annual tradition and now for the second year on our Patio Stage.

Today's program will feature five very different shows for you, three written by members of the TWS Playwrights Workshop. This year we have mics to combat our outdoor elements of planes, trains and automobiles along with the wind and other distractions. A big thanks to Willy Steele and John Mueller for organizing that aspect of the program. And also, a big thanks to Willy and The Cattells for continuing to enhance the program with their live musical accompaniment.

It's always a pleasure to bring you the Shorts program and this year is no exception. We thank you for your consistent patronage and support over the years. On behalf of everyone involved, please enjoy today's performance of Shorts for a Summer's Evening. We're happy you're here!
